1. HepzibahHouse.org, New Website!

Check it out!! We opted for a vertical style website, with new graphics & layout. Thanks, to Mike Giambattista and Brightwork Digital Design Group for their work on the site, and to Jason Shaban for the amazing graphics!!

We are still "tweaking" the site, adding features & adjustments. Good news though that it is rapidly rising in search engine statistics with weekly blogs, photos, information, and links to other groups working to abolish modern day trafficking and raise awareness locally, nationally, and internationally.

2. Shadow Industry Short Film

YaaaHooo!!!!!! It is finished (or very nearly so)! We saw a sneak preview last night at our Hepzibah House board meeting. Incredible!! With stunning potential for Hepzibah House AND the actors and editors who have put so much time and energy into it!

What an amazing short film, delivered by a number of incredibly skilled and talented supporters! It is 8 minutes long, telling the story of a girl who is "gorilla pimped" coming out of her workplace, sex trafficked, rescued and brought to Hepzibah House.

It will premiere in January. I know... I wanted to premiere it sooner, too. But prevailing wisdom indicated it was better to wait until after the holidays. Sigh...

The premiere, and subsequent showings will start with music, followed by a sex trafficking survivor's story, information about modern day slavery and sex trafficking in the United States. Then we will show the movie with a question and answer opportunity following. The evening will end with opportunities to support Hepzibah House through prayer, volunteerism and finances.

PS!

People have been asking me about the music in the Shadow Industry Trailer. It is a clip from an album called Hillina: Into The Light. The piece on the trailer is from the second song on the album, titled Rest In You. She is an amazing artist combining fluid vocals and resonating lyrics with a gospel jazz sound. Her website is hillinamusic.com.

3. End of Year Giving & Business Plan Update

The business plan and financial projections documents are back from the printers! They turned out amazing and are bound and ready to go! If you knew how business-impaired I am, you would totally know this whole project was a God-thing!

The business plan is in two parts: 28 pages of spread sheets with financial projections and estimates, and 64 pages of information, answering every question an investor might have about who we are, what we are up to, and how we will go about our mission: Recovery, Restoration and Release from the nightmare of human trafficking.

We would like to invite you - our interested supporters - to let us know about people in your network who might be willing and able to make a significant financial donation towards putting this plan in motion. If this is you, please contact me! We will send a packet with a personalized cover letter, the business plan, financial projections, 2 page graphic business plan, brochure, linen binder with our poster printed on a label and informational DVD.

4. Horse Farm Update

The horse farm sold last year for roughly $345,000. The list price was $600,000. However, there was problem with the title. That sale was annulled and now the property is somewhere between Wells Fargo Bank's non-performing loan and real estate owned offices, languishing on someone's desk! If you have Wells Fargo connections, or know someone who does, please contact me!

5. Yoked For A Cause, November 17th

Hepzibah House will have a table at this conference, happening this Saturday, November 17th, from 9 to 5 at the Palm Beach County Convention Center.

Check out the website form more information, but here are several quotes:

"An Unparalleled Christian Women's Conference is coming to South Florida this November!"

"What would happen if all 580 churches in South Florida came together for a day of prayer, worship, and teaching with the distinct focus of encouraging and supporting women in crisis in Palm Beach County? We believe heaven would break in and God's Kingdom would shine brightly in our city."
